Profile

I am an emerging Software Developer currently enrolled at Nashville Software School in a Full-Stack Web Development Cohort. Upon completing the cohort in May 2023, I will be seeking a position as a Software Developer.

Prior to web development, I spent two years in public accounting in EY's assurance practice, where I helped perform audits for large public and private companies. While at EY, I received my CPA licensure in the state of Tennessee.

In addition to my professional career, I write a newsletter called MWF @ 8 about emerging technology, society & culture, and history. I also have a podcast series about interesting Biographies and Autobiographies called DyerNotes.

● Middle School Basketball Coach
